GOVERNOR'S SUNDAY BALL VETO

By vetoing the Sunday baseball bill Governor Harmon gave additional proof that he has not only the legal ability but also the moral courage to look a proposition squarely in the face and meet it like a man.

The bill which proposed a suspension of existing law wherever desired by local option election, had many earnest advocates and as many earnest opponents. Himself a constitutional lawyer of unquestioned ability, nothing but humiliation would have been his portion had he winked at the law and ignored the constitution by putting the seal of approval upon a measure which would have had no standing whatever in any court in the state. For the bill would surely have been taken into court by its opponents, and there is not a common pleas judge nor a circuit judge nor a supreme judge in the entire state who could have conscientiously rendered a different opinion upon it than that given by the governor in his veto. Surely there is not a baseball fan in Ohio who could reasonably expect Governor Harmon to brush aside or ganic and statutory law and take a position which would subject him hereafter to scorn and ridicule in order that he might favor the most popular pastime of today.

Governor Harmon is not lacking in sympathy with all enthusiasts for our great national game. In his college days he used to "put them over the plate" to the confusion of batters of opposing teams, and he enjoys a game of baseball today as much as does any "rooter" on the bleachers. But law is law, and constitutions are constitutions, and governors must be guided by them in the performance of official duty. As well might the legislature submit the question of repealing the law against burglary or the law against horse stealing in any town or township by local option election as to attempt to circumvent the statutes forbidding Sunday ball games by a local option election on the proposition.

Then, too, there is the moral side of the matter, the side which requires no argument to defend. So that by his veto Governor Harmon performed both a legal and a moral duty which no conscientious man in the executive office dare to lightly disregard.

Even the most enthusiastic baseball fan who may feel disappointed at first cannot fail to realize upon mature reflection that the governor did his full duty fearlessly and fairly and to have a higher respect for him than before for so doing.

BIG WELLS

In Ashland County Have Been Discovered

Ashland county farmers are losing fortunes because a short time ago those who owned lands in Jackson and Mohican townships leased the gas rights on their lands for $1 per acre. Within the past few days operators have drilled in some of the greatest gas wells of the state, one struck by the Logan Natural Gas & Fuel company on the Cross farm, four miles north of Ashland, producing 5,000,000. Operators are flocking to the fields in crowds, but no more land is being leased at the ridiculous price of $1 per acre. A well on the Logan farm has just been drilled in. It is producing 1,000,000 feet daily.

The Logan company, said to have a working agreement with Standard Oil and the Ohio Fuel & Supply Co. has about 24,000 acres under lease.—Mansfield News.

HEINZE CASE UP AGAIN

New York, April 25.—After numerous delays and postponements the case of F. Augustus Heinze, the "Montana copper king", who is charged with over-certification and misapplication of the funds of the Mercantile National Bank, was on the docket in the United States circuit court today and the indications are that the trial will proceed without further delay.

The case against Heinze had its origin in the financial panic of 1907 and has been dragging through the courts ever since. The initial indictment against him was filed more than two years ago and the last one on March 3 of this year. In the meantime there have been all sorts of arguments as the result of which some of the counts in the original indictments were dismissed. There now remains forty-seven different counts charging over-certification and misapplication of the funds of the Mercantile National Bank, of which Heinze was the controlling factor.

CENTENARY OF NOTED NAVAL SURGEON

Laurens, Pa., April 25.—One hundred years ago today there was born in this city Jonathan M. Foltz, who was one of the most noted pioneers of the medical service of the United States navy. Dr. Foltz served conspicuously in the Mexican war and in the civil war he was fleet surgeon to Admiral Farragut. He conceived and put into effect the quarantine measures which prevented a yellow fever epidemic at New Orleans, during the Federal occupation of the city, while the fever was raging with great virulence in Pensacola, Galveston, Key West and other gulf ports. After the war President Grant appointed Dr. Foltz chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery and surgeon general of the navy with the rank of commodore. Dr. Foltz died in Philadelphia in 1877.

MECHANICAL COTTON PICKER

Boston, April 25.—A mechanical cotton picker is one of the most interesting exhibits displayed at the Textile Show, which opened in Mechanics Building in this city today. Many other recent inventions and improvements relating to various branches of textile manufacture are shown, including the latest ideas in concrete construction for cotton mills.

STAGE

At The Cooper Theatre Increased In Size

Extensive improvements have been made to the stage at the Cooper theatre. Heretofore the dressing rooms have been on the same floor with the stage, but they are now located above the stage in the rooms formerly occupied by Dr. Pennell. With the removal of the dressing rooms the size of the stage is greatly increased, so that it will be possible to run stock companies, which Manager Hartman may book for the summer months.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

Indianapolis, Ind., April 25.—Fully 1,500 delegates and visitors are in the city attending the forty-sixth annual convention of the Indiana Sunday School Association, which held its opening session this afternoon. The annual reports prepared for the convention by the various officers and committees show great gains in the number of Sabbath schools and membership throughout Indiana. The convention will remain in session until Friday and will be addressed by Governor Marshall, Rev. F. B. Meyer of London, Bishop Hartzell of Africa, Marlon Lawrence of Chicago, and others of note.

PENN GRANT AT AUCTION

London, April 25.—The original draft of the famous grant of the Province of Pennsylvania to William Penn, signed on March 4, 1681, was included in an interesting lot of American documents and letters offered for sale at Sotheby's today. The draft of the Penn grant is on 22 large folios, stitched together, and confers the title of Captain General on Penn and the right to levy war against an armed foe. In addition to the Penn grant the letters offered for sale included many dealing with affairs in Boston, New York, Rhode Island, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Virginia, Maryland and the Carolinas.

CARNEGIE LIBRARY DEDICATED

Washington, D. C., April 25.—Many friends of Howard University joined with President Taft and other distinguished men and educators this afternoon in dedicating the new Carnegie library building which is designed to make the university the best equipped institution in the country for the education of the negro race. In addition to the address of President Taft the program of exercises included an introduction by President Thirkfield of the University, a message of greeting, from Andrew Carnegie, the donor of the library, and addresses by Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus of Chicago and Herbert Putnam, librarian of congress.

The new library building is a handsome edifice of the colonial type of architecture, with massive pillars and broad steps at the entrance. The larger portion of the main floor is given over to the library proper, with its modern steel bookcases capable of shelving 60,000 volumes. The second floor contains rooms for the faculty and board of trustees and a special reading room for the 400 medical students of the university. The basement includes a library hall, with platform and chairs for 300 persons, a newspaper reading room and bindery.

ATTACHMENT SUIT

The firm of R. G. Brock & Co., meat dealers, brought an attachment suit before Squire Harter Monday morning against Mrs. W. C. Mercer, who owed a large meat bill. The woman was removing to Columbus, but Constable Simpkins attached her goods at the railroad station.

Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of St. Paul's Episcopal church will occur Monday evening, May 2, at 7:30 o'clock at the parish house.

AUDITORIUM USED

At Parochial High School For First Time—Two Fine Addresses

The auditorium at the parochial high school was used for the first time Sunday evening when a large audience assembled, completely filling the room, to listen to addresses on "The Prevention of Tuberculosis" by the Rev. L. W. Mulhane and Dr. James F. Lee. Both addresses were highly entertaining and were listened to with much interest by the large audience.

TORONTO'S BIG HORSE SHOW

Toronto, Ont., April 25.—The final touch has been given to the elaborate decoration of the Armory and other arrangements practically completed for the opening of the Canadian and Military Horse Show here tomorrow. Added brilliancy will be given the opening by the presence of their excellencies the Governor-General and Countess Grey. The entries this year eclipse all previous records of the Toronto association both as to numbers and class and the management is looking forward to the most successful exhibition of its kind ever given in the Dominion. Numerous special events will mark each day of the show, which will continue until the end of the week.

CONSECRATED AS BISHOP

London, Ont., April 25.—With all the splendor of the Roman Catholic ritual, Father M. F. Fallon of Buffalo was consecrated bishop of London here today. St. Peter's Cathedral, spacious though it is, was unable to accommodate the large throng that sought admittance to witness the ceremony.

The Most Rev. F. P. McEvay, Archbishop of Toronto, was the consecrator, Rev. James Fallon of Ottawa the preacher, Bishops Scollard of Sault Ste. Marie and McDonald of Alexandria assisting in the primary ceremony. Nearly two-score priests from various parts of Canada and the United States filled the honorary offices of the ritual, headed by Rev. Father Downey, of Windsor, who acted as master of ceremonies.

GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Chicago, April 25.—Many floral memorabilia and congratulatory messages poured in upon Bishop and Mrs. Charles Edward Cheney at their home in Michigan avenue today on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary. Bishop and Mrs. Cheney were married April 25, 1860, in old Trinity church in this city. The wedding reception was held in a little frame house at State street and Jackson boulevard, now in the very heart of the retail business district. Chicago at that time had a population of but little over 100,000. Shortly after his marriage Dr. Cheney became pastor of Christ Episcopal church and still occupied the same pulpit. Since 1878 he has been bishop of the Reformed Episcopal synod of Chicago.

BUILDING 539 FEET HIGH

(New York Sun)

Trowbridge & Livingston, as architects for the Bankers Trust Company, filed plans yesterday for the big thirty-nine story building to be erected for the company on the plot at the northwest corner of Wall and Nassau streets. It is to be an edifice of curious appearance, with granite facades, offset with Ionic columns at the lower stories, and rising to a full height of 539 feet above the curb line.

It will front 94.1½ feet on Wall street and 96.11 feet on Nassau street, and the roof will be crowned with a great pyramidal tower 94 feet high, with a decorated apex, the peculiarity of this tower being that it will be entirely without windows, the ventilation being supplied by a vent shaft extending from the cellar to the top of the tower. The tower will be used for tank storage.

Dayton, Ohio, must be a very old-fashioned place. People continue to build split fences there.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

A LINIMENT FOR EXTERNAL USE.

Cheerfulness and a bright disposition during the months before baby comes, are among the greatest blessings a mother can bestow upon the little life about to begin. Her happiness and physical comfort will largely govern the proper development of the health and nature of the child. Mother's Friend contributes much to the mother's happiness and health by the relief and mental comfort it affords. It is a liniment composed of penetrating oils and medicines which lubricate the muscles and tendons of the body, soothe the swollen mammary glands, cause a gradual expansion of the skin and tissues, and aid in the relief of nausea. The regular use of Mother's Friend greatly lessens the pain and danger when baby comes, and assures a quick and natural recovery for the mother. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. CONFEDERATE VETERANS TO MEET AT MOBILE

Mobile, Ala., April 25.—The city is rapidly filling with visitors and delegates to the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans and the regions of the affiliated organizations of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, the Daughters of Confederate Veterans and the Southern Memorial Association, which will be in session here during the first part of the week. The whole city is lavishly decorated in honor of the veterans and is receiving them with genuine Southern hospitality. Judging from present indications the reunion will have a record attendance.

The reunion of the Sons of Confederate Veterans will open tonight with a grand welcoming meeting in German Relief Hall, the headquarters of the organization during the reunion week. The Confederate veterans will hold their meetings in a large tent seating about six thousand, which has been erected for that purpose near the Tent City, where two thousand veterans will find accommodations. The camp has been established on the shore of Mobile Bay, which saw the last naval struggle of the war, the battle between Admiral Buchanan and Admiral Farragut, and upon the western part of which the last land battle of the Confederacy was fought. Directly adjoining the "tented city" the commissary and kitchen are located which will supply from 2,000 to 2,500 veterans with free meals during the reunion. Monroe Park, where the reunion will be held, is within easy reach by a number of trolley lines.

The most elaborate arrangements for the reception and entertainment of the veterans and other visitors have been made and in addition to the numerous public entertainments, balls, excursions and camps there will be many social affairs of a more or less private nature in honor of the veterans and their ladies. Great rivalry is expected between the delegations from Little Rock, Macon, Chattanooga, and several other cities anxious to secure the reunion of next year for their respective cities.

The complete program of the United Confederate Veterans' Reunion is as follows:

Tuesday

Morning session at 9 o'clock, at Auditorium, Monroe Park.

Music by band while the convention is assembling; relinquishment of authority of committee of program and order of arrangements, by Mr. W. K. P. Wilson, chairman; calling convention to order, by Gen. George P. Harrison, commander Alabama division, U. C. V.; invocation by Rev. R. Linn Cave, chaplain general U. C. V.; music, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," United Confederate Choirs of America; recitation, Poem of Welcome, written for the occasion by Hugh G. Barclay, by Miss Vera Williams; address of welcome in behalf of the State of Alabama, by Governor Braxton Bragg Comer; address of welcome in behalf of the City of Mobile, by Hon. P. J. Lyons, mayor; address of welcome in behalf of the United Sons of Confederate Veterans, by Clarence J. Owens, commander in chief U. C. V.; song, "Soldier's Dream," by Thos. Halliwell, of Mobile; recitation by Miss Minnie Reese Richardson of Alabama; address and turning the auditorium over to the veterans, by Jacob E. Bloch, chairman of executive committee; response and acceptance of auditorium by Gen. Clement A. Evans, commander in chief U. C. V.; an-

HOW WE GO TO SLEEP

(London Express)

How do we go to sleep? How does Mother Nature charm away our consciousness? First of all, she throws her spell on those centers of our bodies that preside over the muscular system, causing one group of muscles after another gradually to collapse. Thereafter, various powers of mind succumb in regular order. First we lose attention and judgment. Then memory goes and imagination wanders away in reveries of its own. Ideas of time and space cease to control thought as gentle sleep—the nurse of our life—draws nearer. Then comes the turn of the special senses beginning with sight—eyelids close and eyeballs turn upward and inward, as if to shut out all light, the pupils contracting more and more as slumber steals over us.

The turn of the ears comes—the power of hearing fades away. The heart beats and breath is drawn more and more slowly. The heart beats from 10 to 20 times less frequently each minute, or 5,000 times less during the night, while breathing is not only slower, but much more shallow than during waking hours. Temperature falls by perhaps two degrees and the body loses three times less heat than when awake. And so at last sleep covers a man all over—sleep that shuts up sorrow's eye.

A CARD OF THANKS

We desire to thank our neighbors and friends for their help, sympathizing words, beautiful floral offerings, to the choir for the music, and whatever else contributed to the comfort of our hearts in our bereavement.

CINCINNATI MAN IS KILLED FOR MONEY

Body Thrown on Track and Cut to Pieces By Car.

Cincinnati, O., April 25.—P. J. David, 29, formerly of Detroit, but for some time superintendent of the automobile department of the Faires & Scoville Carriage company of this city, was murdered, robbed and his body placed on the car track in Clark street, where it was run over by a car and badly mutilated.

When last seen alive, David was leaving a Colerain avenue saloon in company with two mysterious men, and it is the theory of the police that they are his slayers. The coroner found what was apparently a stab wound in the stomach, and from the appearance of the body death had occurred some hours before the car struck it. David received a large salary and had considerable money when at the saloon, but none was found on the body.

Subtlety may deceive you; integrity never will.—Cromwell.
